(b) the disciplines in which the training is provided to the children;

(c) whether the number of these schools are very few considering the huge size of the State; and

(d) if so, the details thereof and the steps proposed to be taken by Government in this regard?

THE MINISTER OF YOUTH AFFAIRS AND SPORTS (SHRI SUNIL DUTT): (a) and (b) Sports Authority of India (SAI) adopts schools under the Scheme of National Sports Talent Contest (NSTC). In order to promote indigenous games and martial arts, SAI, under the NSTC Schmes, has adopted Vivekananda Vidyalaya at Ambur to train children in the discipline of Silambam. SAI has also established two SAI Training Centres at Chennai and Salem and one Special Area Games (SAG) Center at Nagarcoil. The schools going children having sports potential are admitted in these centres and training is imparted in the discipline of Athletics, Basketball, Boxing, Football, Hockey, Kabaddi, Karate, Taekwondo and Volleyball.

(c) and (d) Under the NSTC Scheme, SAI has discontinued adoption of regular school and since 1995 no regular schools have been adopted by SAI. However, keeping in view the need to promote sports in remote and rural areas, Government of India, during the X Plan period has approved extension of NSTC scheme to Navodaya Vidyalayas having requisite sports infrastructure. Since no Navodaya Vidyalaya exists in the state of Tamil Nadu, SAI could not adopt any such school under this scheme.

'Sports' is a subject under State list. The promotion of sports in schools is mainly the responsibility of State Government. Government of India supplements the efforts of the State Government of Tamil Nadu as indicated in (a) and (b) above.
